A note on Income Protection claims
Income Protection claims are not included in this year's figures. Our Income Protection product launched in late 2024, so the claims experience is still emerging. Including early claims data now could give an unrepresentative picture that isn't yet meaningful at book level. We'll share Income Protection claims data once the book has matured and the figures are more established. In the meantime, you can find Income Protection resources and adviser support materials on our Adviser site. Income Protection | For Advisers | Scottish Widows
